April 2005

Tax Relief Forms Due April 1

Both the Town of Vienna and Fairfax County offer real estate tax relief for low-income homeowners who are 65 years old and over, or permanently and totally disabled. Both Town and County applications must be filed. Applications for 2005 for all programs are due April 1. This date may be extended to December 31 of the year following the year the application was due for first-time filers or if hardship conditions exist which, through no fault of the applicant, prohibit applying by April 1. For more information, call 703-255-6325.

Street Sweeping

Spring street sweeping is underway. The town has been divided into eight sections for cleaning, and residents are requested not to park on the street during the scheduled time for their section to allow the street sweeper to do a thorough job. As the time for each section approaches, signs will be placed on streets as a reminder, and residents can also call 703-255-6381 for information.

Get Involved!

Membership on Vienna's boards and commissions provides citizens the opportunity to become actively involved in Town affairs. An application for appointment is on pages 9 and 10 of this newsletter.

Officer Receives Valor Award

Det. Brook's award recognizes her "selfless actions and exceptional judgment during an emergency situation which resulted in the preservation of human life."

The incident occurred December 3, 2003, when Det. Brook and two County police officers responded to a report of a 16-year old girl standing dangerously close to the edge of the top level of the parking garage at the Vienna Metro Station. She appeared ready to jump to the pavement four stories below.

The girl had been reported missing from her Vienna home the previous night. She had spent hours driving around the area, growing more and more depressed over the recent suicide of a close friend. By morning, she was convinced that she, too, wanted to die.

Det. Brook was the first to inch her way close enough to talk to the girl, who was crying and repeating that she wanted to die. Det. Brook talked calmly to the girl and encouraged eye contact.

As the girl slowly moved closer to the edge of the wall, the officers knew time was running out. Det. Brook continued to distract the girl while the County officers crept silently towards her. Once they were close enough, they lunged as one, grabbing the girl by the arms and legs and pulling her away from the edge.

The two Fairfax County police officers involved in the heroic action are Lance A. Hamilton and Dana L. Robinson.

Citizen Comment

Giving Up on Recycling

A southwest Vienna resident writes: "I have decided not to recycle my plastic, glass, and metal items anymore. Much as I believe how good this practice is for the environment, the Town's efforts and ability (or actually, inability) to carry my recycled products away have forced me to give up.

"Too often I have returned home to find that my box of plastic, glass, and metal has been refused. I have no idea why. Instead, I find a little paper guide that tells me the general recycling policy of the town. Nowhere does it tell me what is actually wrong with my effort to recycle.

"This is unfortunate. And I believe I'm not the only one who feels this way. I have often walked through the town, only to see that many of my neighbors also throw their recyclables out with the trash. So I can only imagine that those residents, too, have no more faith in the Town's recycling program.

"Hauling our trash is expensive, and so the Town has implemented its recycling program to reduce the physical amount and subsequent expense of trash it takes to the landfill. I'm sure this has been somewhat successful. But if residents can't rely on the Town's recycling program, then the trash bill is going to go back up, as more and more people give up, like me."

From the Department of Public Works: The solid waste regulations for "Mixed Materials" states, "Glass bottles and jars, all colors; plastic bottles and jugs; metal food and beverage cans; and aluminum foil and plates shall be placed together in a transparent plastic bag." The box this citizen is using is not acceptable under the Town's current recycling program. Bags specifically designed for recycling are available at many stores, and the transparent bags normally used by grocery and other retail stores are also acceptable. Any resident who has questions about the Town's solid waste regulations should call the Department of Public Works at 703-255-6382 for information.

Citizens are invited to submit comments for use in the Town of Vienna Newsletter. Comments must be made in writing or via e-mail (pio@ci.vienna.va.us) and received by the 15th of the month to be included in the following month's newsletter. Your name, address and daytime phone number are required. This information will not be published.

Planning a Home Project this Spring? Don't Forget Your Building Permit!

Your Planning and Zoning Department reminds you: It is no secret that home improvement projects usually take longer and cost more than anticipated. However, some contractors and even a few homeowners try to expedite the process and save money by cutting corners and taking shortcuts. To many contractors and homeowners this may be tempting, but it usually generates more problems and costs more money than if the proper procedures had been followed.

The most common example is beginning a home improvement project without obtaining the proper permits beforehand. Building codes and specifications vary from one jurisdiction to another. Although the Town of Vienna is located in Fairfax County and uses County structural plan review and inspection services, Vienna has its own code regulating home improvements. Instead of guessing whether you need a permit, or relying on a contractor to find out, simply check with the Planning and Zoning Department at Town Hall.

Unfortunately, some contractors and homeowners proceed with home improvements and avoid obtaining permits to try and save money and time, and to make changes that are not code approved. When a valid building permit is obtained for home improvements, a red card with the words "BUILDING PERMIT" on it should be displayed so that it is visible from the street. If there is no red card visible, then chances are a permit was not obtained.

If you are unsure whether the home improvements you are planning require a permit, or if you have questions regarding home improvement projects going on in your neighborhood, please call the Planning and Zoning Department at 703-255-6341.

If a major home improvement project requires a construction dumpster, make sure it is located entirely on your property and not in the street.

Call 703-222-0776 for information.

This year, Vienna voters will elect three Town Council members, who will begin new two-year terms July 1. Information about the candidates appears on the next page.

For election results, call the Vienna Newsline, 703-255-6333, one to two hours after the polls close on May 3, or visit the Town's Web site at www.ci.vienna.va.us.

The candidates profiled on page 7 have shown their interest in the Town of Vienna by running for Town Council. Please show your interest by taking the time to vote May 3.

Voter Registration Deadline April 4

Monday, April 4, is the last day to register to vote in the May 3 Town election. You are eligible to register if you are a Vienna resident, at least 18 years old by election day, and a U.S. citizen.

You may register in person in the Fairfax County General Registrar's Office at the County Government Center or by mail. Meet the Town Council Candidates

NARFE Chapter 1116 (National Association of Retired Federal Employees) has invited George Lovelace, Maud Robinson and Syd Verinder to a "Meet the Candidates" session at its April 12 meeting. The public is welcome to attend the program, which will begin at 2:30 p.m. at the Vienna Community Center.

The meeting will also include an overview of this year's Virginia General Assembly by State Senator Jeannemarie Devolites Davis and State Delegate Steve Shannon, beginning at 1:30 p.m.

No Curb Painting Allowed

Some residents have recently received offers to paint their house numbers on the curb. Not only have these solicitors failed to apply for a license, but they cannot legally paint the curb because it is technically Town property. If you receive such a solicitation, please call the Police Department's non-emergency number, 703-255-6366. House numbers should be large enough and placed so that they can be read from the center of the street going in both directions on the darkest night, in the worst of weather, and not hidden by foliage or parked vehicles.

GEORGE E. LOVELACE has served a total of eight terms as a Town Councilman.

"I believe in service to the community and I want the opportunity to again serve the Vienna community. My experience on the Town Council, service in the House of Delegates, civic participation on boards and commissions at the town, county and state level, and participation in local community service organizations have provided me the tools needed to enhance my service on the Council.

"My interest is to ensure that Vienna maintains its residential character. It is important that all citizens of Vienna feel that they have a voice on the Council, especially our senior citizens. I want to continue to be that voice. I believe that, regardless of age, all of our citizens deserve quality services consistent with budget constraints and our consistently high bond rating, to be heard before the Council acts and to expect tax reductions whenever possible.

"I will continue to be a strong voice that will expound the land use principles that have made Vienna a community that accommodates a diversity of homes by economics and construction, and to keep Vienna from being impacted by development activities on our town borders. I will keep working to develop policies that ensure that a quality infrastructure is in place and maintained, that a vibrant business atmosphere is a priority and that effective law enforcement is continued.

"I would consider it an honor and a special privilege to be elected again to the Vienna Town Council."

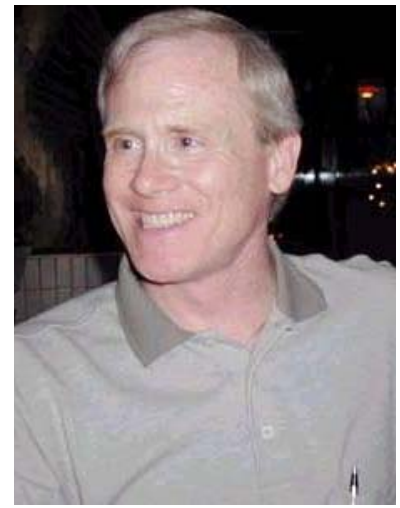

MAUD F. ROBINSON has been a Town Council member since 2000.

"When seeking elective office, the question is, what are your goals? Mine have been constant throughout years as a citizen activist and now as Council member. First and foremost has been the development and retention of Vienna's attractive, small-town character and responsive government. I believe the community shares these goals and that Vienna today is proof that we can preserve its unique identity. I steadfastly support maintaining our land use policies, which protect the zoning integrity of residential neighborhoods and encourage an attractive, commercially viable business sector.

"I am committed to prudent expenditure of tax dollars and keeping Vienna financially sound with a consistently high bond rating. Of concern are increasing costs of unfunded Federal and State mandates relating to environmental regulations and post-9/11 security measures for public facilities. However, we must keep our tax rate as low as possible consistent with good services and maintenance of town infrastructure. Rising property assessments particularly impact long-time residents on fixed incomes who worry if they can remain where they raised their families and contributed so much to the community.

"Vienna is fortunate that many young families are arriving, reinvigorating neighborhoods and engaging in town activities. With their energy and enthusiasm, they encourage us to govern with foresight for the town's future well being. I pledge to keep Vienna a safe, attractive community that reaches out to all age groups and listens to citizens' concerns."

SYDNEY H. VERINDER is completing his first term as a Town Councilman.

"It has been an honor to serve the citizens of Vienna for the past two years. The Town Council has consciously strived to enhance the 'small-town character' and openness of Vienna, while responding to the ever-changing character of the greater Tysons Corner/Fairfax County area.

"In 2003, my priorities were: Good Stewardship of our Financial Resources; Supporting Public Safety; and Promoting a Healthy Business Community. I still believe in these priorities. I believe the best way to enhance Vienna's future is to continue a conservative fiscal approach and to make wise use of our tax dollars.

"All of us have been impacted by the rising property assessments occurring in Fairfax County. The average 2005 increase for Vienna is 21 percent, with a 108 percent increase since 2000. Many citizens have been forced to sell and move due to the rising tax burden, particularly those retired seniors with fixed incomes.

"The Town Council must respond by reducing the local tax rate and making sound fiscal decisions for every tax dollar spent. I will lead an effort among the Council to roll back the residential tax rate in line with minimal justifiable increases in the Town's budget for Fiscal Year 2005-06. We must continue to provide essential local services and great customer service for all citizens while looking for creative funding sources (such as Federal and State grants and local partnerships).

"I would honored to serve you for another two years. Please cast your vote on May 3. Thank you."

This Month in History

from the Vienna Newsletter archives

APRIL 1995 – The Fairfax County Health Department's Air Quality and Chemical Hazards Section recently reported to the Town results of its six-year study of air quality around the Vienna Metro Station, which indicate that "air quality in the Vienna Metro area has not been adversely impacted." The opening of the station in 1986 had prompted citizen concerns about air quality due to projected increases in traffic volume.

APRIL 1985 – The Town Council has selected John H. Schoeberlein to become Town Manager beginning April 22. He is currently County Administrator of Winnebago County, IL, and previously served as City Manager of Pompano Beach, FL.

APRIL 1975 – Congressman Joe Fisher told the Town Council at a recent meeting that he will "do anything I can do" to get the Dulles Access Road open to commuter traffic. The road is currently open only to airport traffic. The Town would like to see the highway opened to reduce traffic now using town streets.

APRIL 1965 – Under recently adopted parking regulations, Maple Avenue on both sides within the town limits will be posted with prohibited parking for more orderly flow of traffic and pedestrian safety.

New County Ambulance Policy Based on "Compassionate Billing"

The Fairfax County Fire and Rescue Department's new emergency ambulance service billing is scheduled to begin April 1, founded on the principal of "compassionate billing." The County has adopted the policy of waiving co-payments and deductibles for residents with health insurance, while designing a billing program to avoid financial hardship for residents who are uninsured.

For residents with medical insurance, including Medicare and Medicaid, the insurance payment will serve as payment in full for ambulance transport. For the uninsured, a waiver form is available for those who cannot afford the service. No one will ever be denied ambulance service based on ability to pay. If you need emergency medical assistance, call 911 without hesitation. And if transport to a medical facility is not required, there is no charge for care provided.

More information is available online at www.fairfaxcounty.gov/fire. If you have any questions or would like to schedule a group presentation, send an e-mail to EMSTransportBilling@fairfaxcounty.gov or call 703-246-2266.
